PROFILE

I'm Anmol, a filmmaker born and raised in Bangalore, where my love for storytelling took root. Now based in Mumbai, I hold a degree in filmmaking with a specialisation in film direction. I've crafted music videos and short films that reflect my passion for narrative and visual artistry. I believe in the power of stories to move, inspire, and challenge, and my work aims to capture that magic in every frame. For me, filmmaking is about creating a connection—a spark that stays with the viewer long after the final shot.
